Jerry,

Is this something that you can assist with?

Thank you,

Jan, Penny -

The team still has some concerns over this and our EH&S staff suggested we request a Certificate of Occupancy from the Pest Management Exterminator Company. The Certificate should state that the area where the employees work is safe for occupancy. The exterminator should provide information on all the types of exterminator things he has done to include spraying, traps, etc. If the exterminator should provide information on the types of bugs and any bugs that were sent for additional evaluation. Also, the exterminator should include how many follow up visits will be made to make sure that the work location continues to be bug free. I think if we get this information it will satisfy the employees and make the employees less worried about their
